

To Whom it May Concern,

Please do not allow the Consumer Banking Association (CBA) a chance to change the Indiana telephone privacy act. The sheer number of people who have taken the time to include their phone number(s) to the do not call list clearly shows how important this issue is to many Hoosiers. To change the act now would be very short sighted. There are other ways to contact consumers. BY US mail in your monthly statement or radio and tv spots. I for one will not buy or upgrade my services with a company that insist on bothering me during dinner after a hard days work. These calls have gone from 1 to 3 a night to almost none. I beg you to keep the privacy act alone.

Thank you
Tom Harl
